What is EstimatIQ?

EstimatIQ is an AI-powered project estimation platform built for sales teams. Paste in a client's project description and our engine returns a detailed, scope-aware estimate — broken down by phase, hours, and cost — in under 10 seconds. No spreadsheets. No back-and-forth with engineering.

Who Is It For?

- Sales engineers closing complex technical deals
- Account executives who need fast, credible quotes
- Agencies and consultancies scoping client projects
- Pre-sales teams at SaaS and professional-services companies
- Freelancers and small studios estimating custom work

The Problem We Solve

Getting an accurate project estimate used to take days — back-and-forth with technical teams, endless spreadsheets, and gut-feel guesswork. By the time your quote arrived, the prospect had already moved on. EstimatIQ eliminates that lag entirely.

"We were losing deals because our estimates took 3–5 business days. EstimatIQ brought that down to 30 seconds. Our close rate jumped 22% in the first quarter."

— Sarah Chen, VP of Sales, NovaBridge Solutions

How It Works

- 1

Describe
Paste or type your client's project description into EstimatIQ. Plain language works perfectly — no structured input or templates required.
- 2

Analyze
Our AI engine breaks the description into discrete workstreams, assigns complexity levels, and calculates hours and costs per phase using your team's own rate card.
- 3

Review & Export
View the structured estimate, adjust any line items inline, then export to PDF, Excel, or push directly to your CRM — ready to send to the client.

Key Features

AI-Powered Scoping
Understands technical and non-technical project briefs. Identifies hidden complexity before it bites your margin.

Custom Rate Cards
Upload your team's hourly rates and EstimatIQ applies them automatically to every phase, role, and deliverable.

CRM Integration
Push estimates directly to Salesforce, HubSpot, and Pipedrive. One click — no copy-pasting between tabs.

Version History
Every estimate is saved and versioned. Compare revisions, see what changed, and revert anytime without losing work.

Team Collaboration
Invite technical leads to review and adjust estimates inline. Comments, suggestions, and approvals — all in one place.

Export Anywhere
Download as PDF, XLSX, or JSON. Branded templates for client-facing docs; raw data for internal analysis.

Sample API Response

EstimatIQ ships a REST API for teams who want to embed estimation directly into their own tools and workflows. Here is an example response:

What Our Customers Say

"EstimatIQ cut our scoping meetings in half. Clients used to wait a week for a quote. Now they get it before the call ends."

— Marcus Rivera, Director of Sales Engineering, CloudPeak Inc.

"The CRM integration alone was worth the price. Our reps stopped playing copy-paste games and our pipeline data is finally accurate."

— Priya Nair, Revenue Operations Lead, Tapestry Digital

"I was skeptical AI could handle the nuance of our custom dev projects. After two weeks, I was a convert. The estimates are genuinely good."

— Tom Okafor, Managing Director, Fieldstone Studio

Frequently Asked Questions

How accurate are EstimatIQ's estimates?

Our estimates are accurate within ±15% for most standard project types. Accuracy improves the more context you provide — team size, technology stack, and known constraints all help the AI scope more precisely.

Can I use my own billing rates?

Yes. You can upload a custom rate card for any number of roles (designer, developer, PM, QA, etc.) and EstimatIQ will apply your rates to every future estimate automatically.

Does EstimatIQ integrate with my CRM?

We support native integrations with Salesforce, HubSpot, and Pipedrive on the Growth and Enterprise plans. Our REST API lets you connect any other system on the Enterprise plan.

Is my data secure?

All data is encrypted in transit (TLS 1.3) and at rest (AES-256). We are SOC 2 Type II certified and GDPR-compliant. We never use your project data to train our models without explicit opt-in.
